

We are pleased to announce the availability of the first hands-free SCBA holder for emergency service vehicles as an aftermarket and retro-fit sale, available exclusively through Hughes Fire Equipment, your local Pierce dealer. Pierce has developed a product that can easily be retro-fitted into legacy SCBA seat designs manufactured by Seats Inc. or H.O. Bostrom, that were installed in virtually any emergency apparatus. Please note, however, that it is necessary to review with your dealer the application prior to ordering due to seat positioning and other cab constraints.

There are no levers, complicated straps or cords to actuate or remove prior to entering or exiting from the holder. This hands-free operation gives firefighters valuable time to buckle up and focus on getting safely to and from the scene.

There have been several requests for pricing on the new Hands Free SCBA Bracket. We have created a flat fee for the install plus the price of the bracket. The installation will be reviewed with the customer prior to ordering the new brackets. The main concern is that an additional 2" is required behind the current bracket in order for there to be sufficient room for the new bracket. If there is not an additional 2" available, the seat can be moved forward in some cases. This will be reviewed on an individual basis. Below are the SCBAs in which this new bracket is approved for, and the part number for the appropriate bracket.

The bracket currently fits many different SCBA manufactures units for 30, 45 and 60 minute bottles and air packs. The locking jaws at the crown of the bottle come in two sizes to compensate for bottle diameters (see chart on next page).

Additionally, height and depth is fully adjustable to compensate for various bottle and pack configurations.

Air Pack	Bottle Dimensions	SCBA Bracket P/N
